FOREWORD

The 1969 yearbook commemorated Coahoma's 20 years of

"Developing Human and Natural Resources" in the Mississippi Delta.

There is "One Small Step" in Education from 1969 to 1970, but "A Giant Leap" from 1949 to 1970.

Coahoma Junior College is "Stepping Into The Seventies" with the intrepidity of our Apollo 11 Astronauts, and it anticipates the same glorious results.

Turn these pages and note our First Steps Into The Seventies.

DEDICATION

The Annual Staff takes pride in dedicating the 1970 Coahoman to a person who has stood the test of the 60's and is capable of "Stepping into the 70's" with resolute courage and faith.

We first knew and admired our honoree as a dedicated, scholarly teacher of History and Economics. We honor him because the roots of his own family are imbedded in the history of Coahoma Agricultural High School and Junior College. His practical example of economic strength serves as an inspiration to black boys and girls.

We honor him because of the distinctive contributions he has made as Registrar, Counselor, Program Chairman, Speaker, "pinch hitting" yearbook photographer-par excellence, and as Fraternal and Civic leader in our Community and State.

It is rare to find such a busy, multi-talented teacher willing to cheerfully share his time and talents with students. Because you have given of yourself so freely to help us make history, and then to record it for us and our posterity, we respectfully dedicate our

1970 Coahoman to you, Mr. Marion M. Reid,

Our Registrar and Friend.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The decade of the '60's has ended; the decade of the '70's has begun.

During the past ten years Coahoma Junior College and A.H.S. has experienced significant growth in enrollments, curricular offerings, faculty and staff, and physical facilities. The years that lie ahead will present new and greater challenges which can be met if those who comprise the Coahoma family dedicate themselves to carrying out the following resolutions:

Students - To engage more seriously in the pursuit of learning.

Teachers - To strive more earnestly to whet and to satiate the student's appetite for meaningful and relevant knowledge.

Administration - To labor unceasingly toward achieving both the quantitative and qualitative needs of a constantly growing institution.

May the decade of the '70's be one of rich rewards!

Very truly yours,

James E. Miller, President

DEAN'S MESSAGE

Your 1970 Yearbook theme "Stepping Into The Seventies" (based upon the moon walk) is most appropriate for working on present day social problems. Our commitments for the 70's need to be focused on appreciations, values, attitudes and co-operative skills which can involve adults, youth and children in living the good life; thereby attaining the democratic ideal.

We must work to become world citizens who are humane and committed to change. These changes should be made on the basis of dialogue which involves all cultural groups in the local, state and national communities.

We believe here at Coahoma Junior College that there is need for National Unity. To attain this unity we must help teachers, students and parents feel wanted as a result of a warm and friendly school environment. Parents and adults of the local community should be involved in this step toward relieving community tensions. Teachers must reflect these practices in teaching techniques, pupil-teacher-administrator-relationships and in the personalities of persons.

In the 70's we must care about what happens to Coahoma Junior College faculty and students and make each teacher and student feel important and "good about themselves." We must enhance our student's self respect, trust, and courage, and provide challenging education adapted to their abilities.

In the 70's students, teachers, adults and parents will continue to work toward the democratic goals of learning to live with themselves and others, first in the classrooms and in local and national communities. This will be a giant step into the 70's for you students, and a giant responsibility for Coahoma Junior College. This responsibility started with the first step by President B. F. McLaurin and Mrs. Zee A. Barron in 1949 with the first 20 students who entered this struggling, beginning college. They laid the foundation on which we will now build and make our contribution through the 70's. We Step Into The Seventies with confidence and renewed faith and courage.

MARY G. WHITESIDE

ADMINISTRATION

The decade of the sixties, which has just ended was a decade of outstanding growth and achievement at Coahoma Junior College. It saw us grow from an enrollment of 293 in 1960 to an enrollment of 984 in 1969. In 1960 we had 60 graduates, in 1969, 334. The sixties were good for C. J. C. both in numerical growth and physical plant growth.

We enter the seventies with ambition, hope, and determination to continue our contribution to the well being of society.

We congratulate the Annual Staff on their salute to the seventies, and we sincerely hope that as we make, "giant leaps for mankind" in the seventies that we will not only conquer space, but learn a more wholesome way to live together in our own environment.

"Grasp the whole worlds of reason, life and sense, in one close system of benevolence." - Alexander Pope

ADMINISTRATION

We, again, extend our congratulations to the Coahoma Staff for another job well done.

"Stepping Into The Seventies" offers a great challenge to our youth who must assume leadership roles before the end of the decade. The many fundamental issues which must be resolved will demand of them a concern for the welfare and dignity of others and the responsibility for their own personal development and excellence.

Coahoma Agricultural High School joined the educational elite of the Southern region by achieving Accreditation in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools at the close of the Sixties a milestone in the annals of our institution.

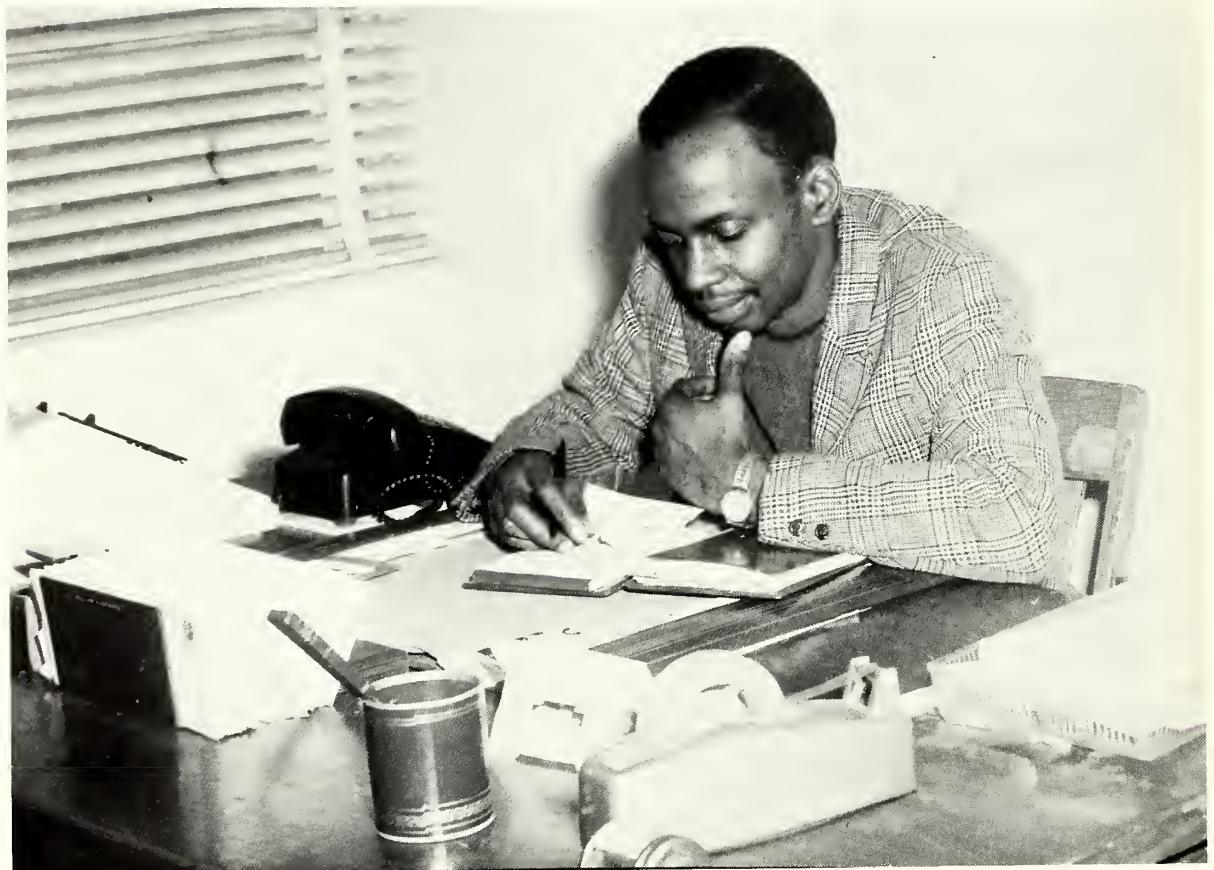

As we step into the seventies I have every reason to believe that the students of Coahoma Junior College and Agricultural High School will meet the challenges of their time and move swiftly and serenely into the mainstream of the American society.

A CERTIFICATE granting Coahoma Agricultural High School membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools was presented to school principal Frank McCune (right) at the accreditation association's annual meeting in Dallas earlier this month. McCune is displaying the certificate with Coahoma Junior College-Agricultural High School president James E. Miller (left) and student body president Freeman Jackson.

SACS Accreditation Awarded Aggie High

Accreditation has been awarded to Coahoma Agricultural High School as a result of evaluation reports submitted to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools last spring.

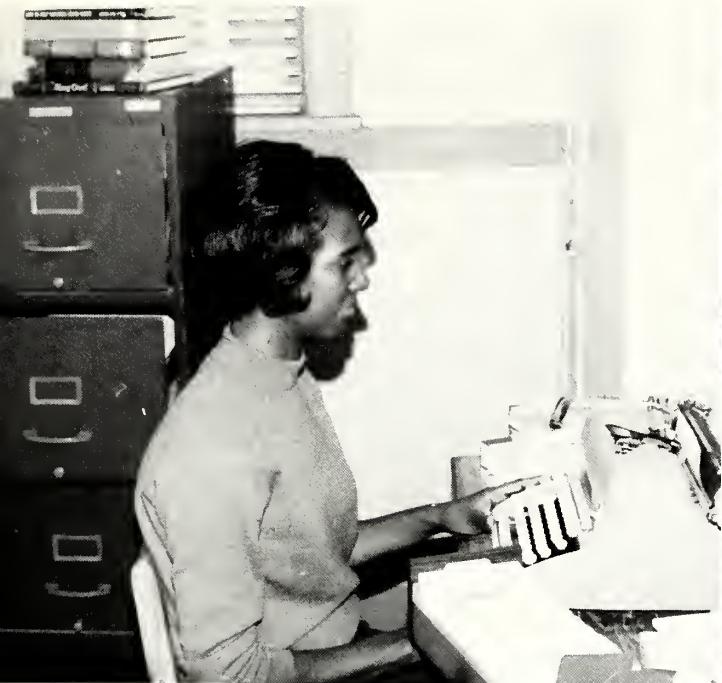

"This institution has been given a rating which indicates it measures up to the standards of accreditation in the region," President of the Coahoma Junior College—Agricultural High School complex James E. Miller stated.

A committee from SACS conducted a study of the school April 27 to 29 while the school faculty accumulated findings of a self-evaluation carried on for several months last term. The two groups presented their reports to the association and accreditation was awarded the school during the annual SACS meeting in Dallas on December 3.

At the meeting school principal Frank McCune was given a certificate which granted membership to the association and entitled the local school "to all privileges and scholastic recognition resulting therefrom."

"The main benefit of accreditation," Miller said, "is that colleges and universities will accept credits from this school without special provision." The high school serves 1,070 students from grades 9-12.

President's Message

The desirable growth of an institution involves an increase both in stature and favor with its clientele. Coahoma Junior College and A. H. S. is and always has been genuinely concerned about achieving this kind of two-fold growth that relates physical facilities to the changing educational needs and goal of learners.

Buildings that have been recently completed and those now under construction will help the institution carry out its educational mission. The increase in the number of faculty members with higher professional training will also help. But reality dictates that much more is needed, and soon.

Among these needs are a new, larger, and more adequate library building, a student union building, a health and physical education building, an auditorium, and new dormitories for boarding students. Additional teachers with dedicated spirits and such advanced degrees as are required to meet accreditation standards will also be needed.

Translating these needs into realization will require both time and money. It will also require the total commitment of the administration to the task of bringing these things to pass.

Because we have an abiding faith in our youth, in our community, and in the future, we commit ourselves.

James E. Miller

ARTHUR JONES IS CHOSEN STAR STUDENT

On the campus of CAHS, Arthur is the center of our maroon and white spotlight this month. He chosen STAR (Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition) student the Mississippi Economic Council, which each year honors a school senior because of his success on the American College examination.

When he is recognized for his achievement, he, in turn, selects a teacher who has contributed most to his academic achievement as his STAR teacher. He chose Mrs. Eva J. Cune.

Mrs. McCune was Arthur's homeroom instructor when he was in ninth grade and teaches Social Studies now.

Arthur Jones and Mrs. McCune were recognized in an assembly in March as STAR student and teacher. They were awarded plaque from the Mississippi Economic Council.

Congratulations, Stars. You deserve the titles. Wear them with dignity.

THESE THREE Coahoma Agricultural High School seniors have been named "Outstanding Teenagers of America" by the Outstanding Americans Foundations. Chosen on the basis of ability and achievement, Maxstein Tyler (left), Freeman Jackson (center), and Barbara Edwards will now compete for the Governors Trophy awarded annually to the most outstanding teenager of each state. State winners will compete on a national level for awards and scholarships.

English Dept. Hosts Workshop

The English Department of CJC played host to the elementary and secondary teachers of the Third District for its Annual English Workshop.

The Workshop was conducted by Mrs. Augustine McPhail, English Consultant, State Department of Education, Jackson, Miss.

An interesting and informative phase of the workshop was a Panel on "Composition." Sister Mary Janelle of Immaculate Conception, Clarksdale, Mississippi served as Coordinator. The Panelists were: Mrs. Shirley Catchings, AHS, Mr. Thurmond Synder, CJC, and Mr. Leroy Allen.

Art Faculty To Workshop At MSCW

The Art Faculty of Coahoma Junior College recently participated in a state-wide Art Workshop on the Campus of Mississippi State College for Women at Columbus.

Among their varied experiences were a televised and alive demonstration entitled "An Experimental Art Program" as it is being conducted in the Meridian Public School. Although the program is relatively new (2 years old), its potentials are great. The College Art Faculty also witnessed a dynamic lecture on "Psychoaesthetic" by Dr. Thomas Slettehough, Head of Department of Art at MSCW.

Mr. Dorsey and Mr. Richardson accepted the opportunity to associate themselves with their fellow colleagues and to their amazement became the first of their race to take an active membership in the Mississippi Art Education Association (MAEA).

To provide our most comfortable working facilities we have been expanding our administration with adequate office space. This makes a new addition to our facilities which provides a more comfortable working environment for our present administration building.

College Work-Study Program At CJC

The purpose of the College Work-Study Program at CJC is to expand part-time employment opportunities for students who are in need of the earnings from part-time employment in order to pursue a course of study. A federal grant is made to Coahoma each year to enable the college to create job opportunities for eligible students.

In order for a student to be eligible for employment under the College Work-Study Program at C.J.C he must be: in need of the earnings from such employment in order to pursue a course of study; he must be capable of maintaining good standing in such courses of study while employed under the program; and he must be accepted for enrollment as a full-time student at C.J.C.

Presently there are approximately 170 students employed under the Work-Study Program at C.J.C. Those students are engaged in such employment as: general office, food services, library aides, janitorial, maintenance, bus drivers, and dormitory counselors.

Topic For Course At CJC

UNIVERSITY, Miss.—The University of Mississippi through University Extension, is cooperating with Coahoma Junior College to present a non-credit interdisciplinary course at Clarksdale entitled "Basic Concepts of Aging" beginning Tuesday.

The community level course, consisting of 10 sessions of three hours each, will be held in the Main Academic Building Lecture Room of Coahoma Junior College from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. each successive Tuesday.

"There will be no charge for tuition since the course is being partially funded by the Mississippi Council on Aging," said Maurice N. Inman, director of University Extension.

"The classes are designed for those persons in the community who work directly with the aged, such as hospital and nursing home personnel, social workers, recreation personnel, counselors, dieticians, housing administrators, clergy, and other interested citizens," Inman said.

Those attending the classes will receive 30 hours instruction in the sociological, psychological, physiological, and economic aspects of aging.

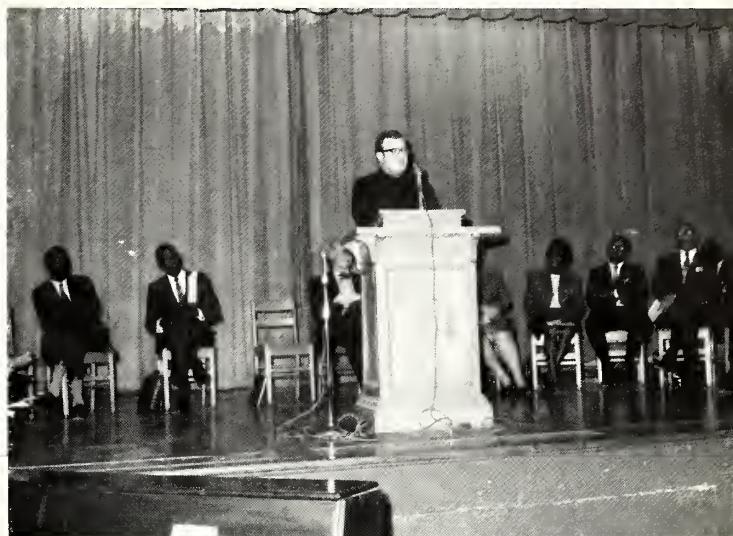

Registration of the course, which will be on a "first come, first-served" basis, must be completed by Jan. 13, 1970. Persons wishing to enroll in the course should contact Earl Gooden or William Walker at Coahoma Junior College before Jan. 13.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Dear Coahomans:

Serving as editor-in-chief of the '70 COAHOMAN has been a rewarding experience. This tremendous responsibility caused many disappointments, but with the help of an untiring staff we managed to publish this record of a step into the seventies.

My staff and I have tried to reflect to you the moods, actions, and hopes vested in all Coahomans during the year 1969-1970.

My special thanks go to Mrs. Zee A. Barron, our supervisor; Melvin Willis, Associate Editor; and Mrs. Dorothy Armstrong, high school Advisor.
